

Teardown June 16

Started teardown at the 1290 profiler site (ISS3). Dismantled the profiler clutter screen and RASS, packed up the profiler electronics, the two computers at this site (profiler and data manager - backed up both before shutting down) and assorted communications, UPS, transformer and other components. Also backed up and shutdown the sodar-RASS and it's computer (and backed that data up). The sounding DM computer rebooted sometime today, probably because of overheating, so backed that computer up and shut it down.

The teardown crew is Lou, Clayton, Rich and Bill.

Weather very hot with no clouds, although some light breezes at times. Some convection southeast of Castelo Branco in evening.
