Weather Fest

Volunteers Needed!

Sunday,
6 January 2013
Noon - 4 pm

at the Austin Convention Center, Hall 1

WeatherFest is a free family-oriented event held prior to the AMS 93rd Annual Meeting, this year in Austin, Texas. Over 70 local-to-national organizations bring the science of weather to life for kids of all ages through engaging hands-on activities, shows, demonstrations, and more.

WeatherFest needs the support of dedicated volunteers to make it a resounding success. We hope you will consider joining the WeatherFest team on January 6th!
