

light frost last night

I should have put in the logbook last night that, when Gordon and I went to the tower last night to replace M 4m TRH, there was very light frost on the ground.