

Interesting waves!

These seen in wind speed for most of the day, but especially the afternoon. They appear to a much lesser extent in temperature and I don't see them in pressure (oddly). Maybe Bruce noticed something interesting too today?

